

Reward 3

the odd, rude word

You have done it again – you have read another chapter. You have read so much now your eyes must be hanging out of your head. Your fingers must have a million paper cuts. Your hair must be on fire from all the imagining you have done. You deserve a reward, an End of Chapter Reward.

In each row of words there is an odd word out.

It does not belong with the other words. Find the odd word then write the first letter of that word in the space at the end of the row. When you have filled in all the spaces you will have spelled out a different and quite rude word.

simple chef wok bum _____

free fight tuna food _____

massage feet happy sweaty _____

eat vomit chuck puke _____

Okay, that is enough rude words for now. I have one more chapter for you and this is the most exciting of all. Please read it as soon as you can. Do not waste a second!
