

Reward 4

your certificate

Can you believe it? You have finished reading my book. You have made it all the way. You deserve the biggest reward yet. And here it is. It is what Dad and I should have been given at the end of the Rat Race. It is a certificate that proves you are a great reader. Cut it out if you like, then fill it in and put it some place where everyone can see it. You should feel very proud of yourself.

Josh and Phil Undy declare that (put your name here)

has read The Undys all the way through and is a flipping awesome reader of books and anything with words on it.
