my secret booklist

If you liked reading my book, you might like reading other books. I like to read books. I keep a secret list of the best ones I have read. I keep it secret so no one else borrows them. If other people borrowed them, they would not be there when I wanted them.

Here are the first three books on my book list. If you feel like reading something funny and exciting, you could try these. But please do not tell anyone else about them.

Asterix the Gaul

by René Goscinny and Albert Uderzo

I really like Asterix, but my favourite character in this book is Obelix. He is big and strong and eats whole pigs. I would like to go on an adventure with him and Asterix. It would be the best fun ever. I would also like to eat a whole pig. Or at least half.

RATING: *****

George's Marvellous Medicine by Roald Dahl

I have read five Roald Dahl books so far. I liked them all, but this is my favourite. It has the meanest old lady in it. She is so bad that she is hilarious.

RATING: *****

Uncanny by Paul Jennings

Paul Jennings is the best writer ever. You never know what is going to happen in any of his stories. I have read all of his books. They are all great. This is the first one I read.
